Back Stamping of Letters.

To the Editor of The Evening Star: In looking over the proceedings of the convention of postmasters just held here I | Eng.; L. Hill, Chicago. notice that the back stamping of letters at country offices was strongly urged by I spent four months at a summer resort in mountains, where nearly all our mail was received once a day, and we were kept waiting at the office from half to threequarters of an hour while the postmaster was applying the stamp to the back of the

As nearly everybody turned out on the L. Boyd, Boston. arrival of the train, and of course knew the hour when their mail was received, it is difficult to see how any one was in any manner benefited by the operation. On the contrary, the postmaster was requested to omit it and let the waiting crowd have tice which is not apparent to ordinary per-sons, but I am quite certain that if the question was submitted to the ten to fif-teen hundred people who got their mail at that country post office the vote would be unanimous against the practice.

of course, in the cities and larger offices it is a very different matter, but in country offices like the one referred to it is a hulsance to the people, and makes extra and unnecessary work for the postmaster.

FAVORABLE ACTION.

ommissioner Beach Recommends the Issuance of a Permit. Captain Beach, the District Engineer Commissioner, has recommended to his associates that the application of the Anacostia Railway Company for permission to construct a plow-pit at the city end of the Navy Yard bridge be granted. While the law prohibits overhead trolley wires within the city limits, Captain Beach points out that the company has been authorized by Congress to use such a trol-ley on the bridge, and as the company is entitled to connect its trolley with its entitled to connect its trolley with its underground system upon reaching the city, he feels that the permit should be granted. But with the proviso, he suggests, that if the action of the Commissioners of revoked by Congress, the company shall remove both the overhead wires and the plow-pit, the pit being placed at the nearest point to the bridge which can be properly adopted. It is understood that Captain Beach's recommendations will be approved by his associates. approved by his associates.

Correcting Street Name. At the suggestion of Mr. J. S. Diller of 1415 Staughton street, the District Commissioners have directed that the streetdesignating sign on the lamppost at the intersection of the street with 14th street be corrected, so that it shall read "Staughton" instead of "Stoughton." The street, it appears, was named after Dr. Staughton, the first president of the Columbian Uni-Commissioners Invited.

The District Commissioners have received from the municipal council of Paris, France a communication inviting them to participate in the international congress of public art, which will be held at the Hotel d Ville, Paris, during the French exposition
